MITCHELL'S SALON & DAY SPA

SOCIAL IMPACT REPORT

WHAT DID WE TEACH?

At Mitchell's Salon and Day Spa, our deconstruction and cleanout project functioned as a true hands-on training lab for Building Value participants, immersing them in the realities of a fast-paced commercial worksite. Trainees learned how to operate professionally in a hectic environment while coordinating safely and respectfully alongside other trades, including electricians. Under close supervision, they gained practical experience using heavy-duty equipment such as jackhammers, floor grinders, and polishers, building both technical skill and confidence. Together, these lessons strengthened participants' job readiness, safety mindset, and ability to adapt to real-world construction settings.
