PRICE HILL WILL

SOCIAL IMPACT REPORT

WHAT DID WE TEACH?

Through this furniture cleanout project with Price Hill Will, our team demonstrated how thoughtful material recovery can support both organizational transitions and environmental sustainability. Trainees gained hands-on experience in the careful removal, handling, sorting, and transportation of reusable office furnishings while working within an active office environment. The project emphasized efficiency, coordination, and logistics planning, as the team successfully recovered 36 reusable items totaling 4,000 pounds. By diverting these materials from the landfill and generating $365 in salvage value, this effort reinforced how strategic reuse creates tangible benefits for local organizations while extending the life of valuable resources.
